UNRESTRICTED REPARATIONS INVESTIGATION

French Ambassador to Deliver Message to Hughes Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, Nov. 5.—State department advisers today indicated that Great Britain, Italy and Belgium have reached an accord favoring a free export program of inquiry into the position of these great governments, as understood here, coincides with that taken by the United States and opposes the stand for a restricted inquiry only taken by France.

This development, indicating an entirely new alignment of the European allies over the reparations question, appeared to stimulate hope here that eventually the French, too, would accept an unrestricted program of inquiry rather than risk diplomatic isolation. Hereafter both Belgium and Italy have followed the French lead in most of the questions affecting reparations.

Administration spokesmen declined today to indicate the probable attitude of the Washington government in case the French government maintains its position.

To Hear French Position.

A new statement of the French proposition was brought today by Ambassador Jusserand just back from Paris and it was indicated that after his talk with Secretary Hughes this afternoon the American government might be in a position to determine without much delay whether participation in the expert inquiry would be regarded as worth while.

The government holds to its view, meantime, that there should be the fullest possible exploration of the facts that underlie Germany's industrial productivity, regardless of any factor of time. Inasmuch as the stabilization of conditions in Germany is not making reparations payments of a substantial nature, and that such payments are not to be expected in the near future without stabilization of conditions in Germany, on the contrary, the United States is almost facing the time when it may be called upon to make available money to feed German nationals.

Need Financial Plan.

In these circumstances, the United States government is more than ever convinced that the time has come when a financial plan to make possible the collection of reparations payments should be devised, and that such a plan to have any practical value, must rest on a study of every phase of Germany's economic condition.

Washington officials do not regard the creation of a commission to propose such a plan as in any way jeopardizing the treaty rights so zealously guarded by France.

Important Conference.

Ambassador Jusserand was believed to be in a position to interpret more definitely the intent and purpose of the restrictions which unofficial reports have indicated his government desires to place on the proposed economic committee investigation. His exchange of views with Secretary Hughes was expected to have an important bearing on the Washington government's course in the present uncertain situation as to the new plan.

Sheriff Discovers Still Operating in Cell in County Jail

Monmouth, Ill.—A distillery in a cell in the county jail here evidenced the fact that O. E. Goodenough, held on a charge of "bootlegging," believed in "perseverance wins." Sheriff Hewitt, detecting a "familiar" odor coming from one of the cells, discovered a miniature still concealed in two bottles in Goodenough's cell, in which he was making liquor from grapes.

POWERS SUPREME COURT SACRED IS LOWDEN'S BELIEF

Tells Oregon Audience They Must Not Be Curtailed Any.

Speaking before an audience which packed the large new Public Municipal Coliseum at Oregon Friday night, former Governor Frank O. Lowden brought a forceful message to his neighbors.

In his opening remarks the former governor said that he was glad to once more be with and address his friends in Oregon and Ogle county and that 25 years ago next spring he and his wife had made their first visit to Oregon and the Rock River Valley, coming at that time to look over the property which they later purchased and named Sinissippi Farm. When they first purchased the place it was not with the idea of making it a permanent home, but rather as a place where they could come from Chicago now and then for a few days rest. As the years went by they became more and more attached to the Ogle county farm.

FRANK O. LOWDEN

At Home Among Women.

The former governor spoke in Oregon under the auspices of two of the Women's Clubs of the city, the New Atlantis and the New Century, who have arranged a series of open meetings at which prominent speakers will appear. In commenting on his invitation to speak from the Women's clubs of Oregon, Governor Lowden said that he felt well at home speaking before a woman's club meeting as he was the only son in a family of five girls and that his own family consisted of one son and three daughters.

He dwelt briefly upon the Rock River Valley in the 25 years he has resided there and complimented the people of Oregon on the fine Coliseum building which was constructed last year.

Glad To Meet Friends.

The speaker chose no particular topic upon which to base his address, preferring he said, to meet with his friends and neighbors in the most informal manner and to have a good visit with them.

Of his political career he said that throughout his various campaigns, whether in victory or defeat, he appreciated the support of his friends.

NEW UNION HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING WISH OF STUDENTS

Express Opinion When Girls Give Football Men Blankets.

At a mass meeting of students of the north and south side high schools held Friday afternoon, 550 students raised their hands and by so doing voted for a new union high school building in Dixon. A badly arranged gymnasium with poor equipment, although athletics have probably done more to bring about a strong friendship between pupils of both schools and insufficient accommodations for the assemblage of the high school students brought about the vote.

When a mass meeting of the students was called Friday afternoon in the assembly room at the south side school all could not be accommodated. Seating capacity was filled at once and the students were packed in the room four deep against the walls, and the doors were filled and blocked, prior to the calling of the meeting to order. Superintendent L. B. Potter, in addressing the students, asked how many favored the building of a new union public high school in Dixon and every hand went into the air and a cheer arose.

Girl's Spring Surprise.

To the girl students of the north and south side high schools, belongs the credit for bringing about the most friendly spirit that has existed since the high schools were opened in Dixon. Approximately 350 girl students met four weeks ago, and decided to show the football team representing the schools that their efforts to formalize one of the strongest teams in the history of the local schools were appreciated, resolved to purchase blankets for each individual member of the squad, 16 in all.

At the mass meeting of 550 students Friday afternoon the close of school, the secret became known. A special committee had shown exceptional judgment in the purchase of 16 purple and white blankets which were given to the members of the first team. The meeting marked the largest assemblage of high school students in the history of the local schools and the most clever scheme of showing appreciation to the football team was expressed in the presentation of the blankets.

The girl students have planned to raise funds with which to pay for the blankets at a future showing of a late film production at the Dixon Theater early in December. The girls will sell the tickets and have complete charge of the entire affair.

Dixon Young Folks at Mt. Morris Meet

Twenty-eight young people of St. Paul's church drove to Mt. Morris yesterday afternoon to participate in a fellowship meeting of Luther League enthusiasts from Freeport, Oregon, Mt. Morris and Dixon. They attended the Mt. Morris church after noon and evening. The Dixon delegation was in charge of Herbert Bollman, president of the local league, who made a few remarks at the meeting.

Two solos were furnished by Dixon members. Hold Boyer sang the cornet, and Mr. Hemmer, who sang. The latter is from Iowa and is here with the State Highway Department. Miss Eleanor Powell gave a report.

Mrs. Peterson of the State Luther League and Mr. Hollen both of Chicago, were in Dixon yesterday morning, and went to Mt. Morris with the Dixon young people.

St. Paul's Church Takes Missionary

The congregation of St. Paul's Lutheran church yesterday morning voted to accept Rev. Carl B. Caughman of Jeppore, India, as its missionary pastor. The action which led to his support was voted last year, to take effect this fall, and the local pastor, Rev. L. W. Walter, who has been in correspondence with the Foreign Mission Board of the United Lutheran Church of America, yesterday read a letter recommending Rev. Caughman.

Rev. Caughman went to India from his country in 1922 and has been busy studying the Oriya and Bengali languages, which he needs in his work. He will minister to primitive hill tribes in the domain of the Maharajah, prince of Jeppore. Thus St. Paul's will be working on the other side of the world while resting here at night.

HENRY ART SELLS HIS MEAT MARKET

We call attention to the large ad in this issue on page five announcing the fact that Henry Art had sold his meat market to a Chicago firm who will take possession next Monday. This week Mr. Art will hold a sale in order to dispose of his stock of canned goods, etc., and close out the stock. The Chicago firm will close the market next Monday and remodel the store building, making many changes and reopen with the finest line of meats obtainable. Mr. and Mrs. Art will not leave Dixon, but intend to take a much needed rest and one which they deserve for all the years they have faithfully served the people.

Frank Kreim, wife and children motored to Clinton, Iowa, yesterday and spent the day with relatives.

John P. Kennedy was exonerated of all blame in the death of Halbert I. Bush, aged 14, by a coroner's jury late Saturday afternoon, following an investigation at the scene of the accident and the taking of a great deal of testimony. At the request of relatives of the victim of Friday afternoon's accident, the jury went to the scene of the tragic accident north of Sevenshield street between the Illinois Central tracks and Depot avenue Saturday afternoon. After reconvening, the jury rendered the following verdict:

"We, the jurors, sworn to inquire into the death of Halbert I. Bush, on oath do find he came to his death by being accidentally run over by an auto truck driven by John P. The jury do hereby exonerate John P. Kennedy, the driver of said truck, from all blame."

John Taylor and Thomas Walls, both of this city, pleaded guilty to charges of possession and transportation of intoxicating liquor and were fined $100 and costs apiece. Harold Struff was fined $10 and costs for being intoxicated.

DR. J. D. TRUMBAUER OF OHIO SHOT SELF THROUGH HEAD.

(Special to The Telegraph)

Ohio, Ill., Nov. 5.—Dr. J. D. Trumbauer of this city, took his own life at about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon while he was alone in his room at the Peru hospital, where he had gone on for the drug habit.

Despondency over his habit, which he had fought unsuccessfully since coming here from Sterling a few years ago, in which fight his nervous system had become seriously undermined, is thought to have caused him to place a revolver in his right temple and fire the shot which ended his life.

Dr. Trumbauer, after coming here from Sterling, built up a fine practice to which he devoted himself faithfully. During the past several weeks it was noted that he was falling in health rapidly and last Tuesday he went to the hospital at Peru for treatment. It is believed the treatment he was receiving there was bringing successful results and members of his family and his friends were optimistic over his condition. Therefore the news of his suicide was a distinct shock to them.

He is survived by his wife one son, Earl; a daughter, Helen and his father and one sister in DeKalb.

It is thought the funeral will be held in DeKalb tomorrow.

Dr. Trumbauer, during his residence in Sterling, became well known to Lee county physicians and had many friends who will mourn his death.

OVER CONFIDENT, DIXON HIGH WAS NEARLY BEATEN

Rochelle Eleven in Un- expected Stand Here Saturday.

Cock sure that they could win hands down and that the Rochelle weak and defenseless lineup, the Dixon high school had a narrow escape from losing Saturday afternoon's battle at the north side athletic field, during a drizzling rain which made the ball hard to handle for both sides. "Red" Lahey saved the day for Dixon, grabbing a forward pass out of the air in the third period and racing 39 yards down the center of the field for a touchdown.

The game resolved itself into something of a farce and demonstrated clearly that no contest is won until the final whistle is blown. Instead of being weak and defenseless, the Rochelle team made a very creditable showing against the heavy Dixon machine as is evidenced in the score, which was 7 to 0 for the locals.

Captain Rosencrans tied for honors with Fullback Lahey toward the close of the game when he intercepted a forward pass which Rochelle was using as a ground gainer, and raced 35 yards before he was downed.

The game Saturday spelled defeat for the Rochelle team at Dixon's hands the third time in as many successive seasons. The places of two of Dixon's regular players, who have been disqualified for the remainder of the season for violation of athletic rules were very ably filled.

Dr. E. A. Siskles will return from a two weeks northern hunting trip early Wednesday morning and resume his regular office hours.

FIVE MILES PER MINUTE MADE BY AIRMEN OF NAVY

All World's Records in Speed Broken Sunday at Mitchell Field.

BULLETIN

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, Nov. 5.—Further speed contests between naval air service fliers such as those yesterday at Mitchell Field, New York, were prohibited for an indefinite period, under an order issued today by Rear Admiral Moffet, chief of the Bureau of Naval Aeronautics.

Admiral Moffet based his decision on an opinion by his technical staff that naval fliers have achieved the maximum speed in the air which is possible without taking unnecessary risks. The exhibition now in progress for army relief at the Long Island field will be continued through the approved program however.

The Admiral sent the following telegram to the naval officer in charge of the exhibition: "Present my congratulations to Lieut. Brow and Williams on their performances. Both apparently have obtained maximum speed possible without taking unnecessary risks. Discontinue speed tests but permit both to fly planes for army relief benefit."

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Mitchellfield, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Battling for speed supremacy Lieut. Williams and Lieut. Brow navy airmen, all but flew five miles a minute yesterday. Williams, setting a new world's record, won with an average speed of 266.6 miles an hour over a three kilometer course, although Brow, on his leg, traveled faster than man ever flew before, racing 24.2 miles an hour.

Six times in the last three days the two flyers, pitted against each other, have smashed world records. They meet again tomorrow in the air carnival here.

Williams yesterday captured the record he had lost to Brow Friday, lost it again and recaptured it at dusk. In his first flight he won 263.3 miles an hour. Brow later flew 265.53 miles an hour, breaking on his final leg 24.2 mile an hour. Williams again took the air and four times crossed the course for an average of 266.6 miles an hour, winning the world's record.

Twice Williams narrowly escaped death. In his first flight his thrush-like almost touched earth before he recovered, and on the final leg a crash with other planes was barely averted.

High Schools in Lee County Are Inspected

John Calvin Moore, Asst. Supt. of Public Instruction, is in Dixon today inspecting the north and south side high schools for a two-fold purpose, to determine whether they shall be recognized by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and whether they shall be accredited by the University of Illinois. Tomorrow Mr. Moore will inspect the Amboy high school and on Wednesday the high school at Ashton for the same purpose.

Frank Wamsley of Polo, called on Dixon friends today and proudly displayed some choice apples grown on the Wamsley Brothers' farm near there. Among the varieties he showed were Rambo, Sweet Russet, Pennsylvania Vandavie, Winter Garfield, Wealthy and Northwestern Greenings.

Offer Prize for Couple to Be Wed in Air During Meet

The committee in charge of the plans for the local air meet conducted under the auspices of the American Legion, Dixon Post No. 12, next Monday and Tuesday announces that a cash prize of fifty dollars will be offered to the first couple to be married in a plane while in the air at the local air meet.

This is an opportunity for any enterprising young couple to obtain a nice sum of money, to have a wedding which is by no means common and to take a wonderful ride of the local American Legion Post, airplane ride. This offer is limited to one couple and anyone interested should apply immediately to Sherwood Dixon, the commander.

DIXON LEGION HAS EASY TIME GIVING STERLING DEFEAT

Visitors Outclassed By Local Aggregation in Sunday's Battle.

The Sterling Independents made a very poor showing against the Dixon Legion eleven at Brown's Field yesterday afternoon, being sent a sad distance from the Dixon goal line, while the Dixon gridders sent over three touchdowns. Risley, who has been out of the game since the flu at Elgin three weeks ago, was back on the field and in his hot time. To demonstrate that he had not lost any of his ability, he booted the ball between the posts three times after touchdowns, the final score being 21 to 0 in Dixon's favor.

Reardon sustained an injury to his leg in the first quarter and had to be sent to the bench, Risley being called out on the field and filling the vacancy. The dark, dreary afternoon seemed to give the local grid men renewed strength and while the first period saw a blank chalked up against both teams, their style of play was altered in the second quarter. The Legion played a consistent, charging brand of football, with all of the crippled members back in the fray.

Heinze was called upon in the second period to give an exhibition of his ability and carried the oval across Sterling's goal line for the first touchdown. Risley then kicked goal.

Backs Worked Perfectly.

The Dixon back field was working perfectly and in the third period, Gus Wimblerge at end, sprinted through the Sterling line, received a long pass and raced across the visitors' line for the second touchdown. Risley again kicked goal and the count was 14 to 0.

As the final period wore along and the fans grew restless believing that the scoring was at an end, Dixon started a new charge and this time Dalton was selected to demonstrate his ability and the third touchdown of the afternoon was registered. Heinze, Hess, Vaughan, and Dalton in the back field behaved wonderfully yesterday and played one of the best games of the season. Norman Barry was unable to be present and his absence was hardly noted by the cheering and long gains made by the regular men. The line gave a very good account of itself, each individual giving the fans a first-class exhibition of football. A good sized delegation of fans from Sterling accompanied their recently organized team to Dixon to view the battle. George Moore, former Legion linesman, who has been assisting Rochelle in an attempt to assemble a football team, filled his old position at the left tackle against Sterling.

GRAIN EXPORTS OFF

Washington, Nov. 5.—Grain exports last week amounted to 2,147,000 bushels compared with 4,006,000 bushels the previous week.

Collapse of Mark Caused Big Loss to U. S. Investors

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, Nov. 5.—Between $500,000,000 and $750,000,000 has been lost to American investors through collapse of the German mark, the New York Tribune stated today. English investors lost about $500,000,000 and other countries a like amount, the newspaper continued, declaring Germany not nearly repaid its national debt but had been the gainer to the extent of about $2,000,000,000.

The loss includes funds of thousands of small investors, it was said, many of them German-Americans, who bought marks at two cents each or more. It also includes money invested in German bonds payable in paper money.

E. H. Bisson, vice president of the Guaranty Trust Company, expressed doubt as to whether Germany would be able to establish a stable currency before a basis for a settlement of its reparations question was reached, the Tribune stated.

THINK THUGS PASSED THRU DIXON TODAY

Jeweler Hackett Had Narrow Escape From Meeting Death

Rochelle, 28 miles east of Dixon on the Lincoln Highway, was the scene of an attempted hold-up and a mauling attack by two gun men at 6 o'clock this morning when they entered the jewelry store of W. F. Hackett on Cherry Street just two blocks east of the bank corner, tried to kidnap the jeweler, shot him down in a blood when he made resistance, escaped in a Paige touring car. It is believed the robbers' car went through Dixon early this morning a mile west to Rochelle and came back this way afterward, turning south off the Lincoln Highway just east of this city.

Mr. Hackett, the Rochelle jeweler, escaped with a flesh wound, although the bullet passed within about an inch of his heart, and the gunmen were forced to flee without any loot.

Mr. Hackett, who was a Spanish American war veteran, and was Lieutenant in Co. M, Third Illinois Volunteer Infantry, displayed unusual courage and saved his store from robbery but nearly by his own life when he refused the command of the gunmen to throw up his hands, but cal for help.

There were four men in the Paige but two of them stayed in the automobile, with engine running, parked near the Collier Inn, nearly block from the jewelry store. The other two men walked into the store, made a store window in the wall, set a watch and asked him how much it would cost to have it repaired. Jeweler took the watch to his work bench and examined it briefly, then he took it to the counter to make report on it. As he looked up found both a five men standing drawn revolvers, and they gruffly derided him to put up his hands.

Mr. Hackett told a Telegraph reporter this morning that he did immediately comply and looking toward the street he saw a man go by his store window in the wall, with the idea of calling for help. The taller of the two holdup men started around the counter after Hackett at the same time. The shorter man obeyed the order and the bullet struck a right over heart and was deflected, passing through the flesh and coming out back.

The bullet, after going through Hackett's body crashed through open top of a master clock and struck the wall, where, with spent force, made a hole in the wall. The sound of the shot both startled for the door, and Mr. Hackett continued his calls for help. Handits ran down the block to the street, where, with spent force, made a hole in the wall. The shorter man obeyed the order and the bullet struck a right over heart and was deflected, passing through the flesh and coming out back.

Former Dixtonite Followed.

Charles Kilday, a plumber, former of Dixon, was near the scene of shooting and he jumped into his car and gave chase, but only followed a short distance from town where they outdistanced him and he was back.

Officials of the city and county citizens organized into posse has and started out with rifles, shotguns and pistols looking for the bandits. It is believed the car only followed the Meridian Highway a short distance, turning west and then so again to the Lincoln Highway to proceed west to the nearly to Dixon, put Sheriff George Banning's posse were in Dixon at noon, hot the trail.

Descriptions Meagre.

Descriptions of the bandit quartet are meager, as the Rochelle Jew saw only two of them and he was able to give any exact description them.

A car answering the description the bandits were seen to follow, stopped in Ashton about 1 o'clock, morning for repairs to its motor.

The two men who went into store are said by Mr. Hackett to be between the ages of 20 and 25, to be fairly well dressed.

Deputy Sheriff George Bann, Chief of Police Ambrose Hodges, a motorcycle Officer Bacon and many other officials and Rochelle citizens, proceeded west to the nearly to Dixon, put Sheriff George Banning's posse were in Dixon at noon, hot the trail.

November—month of the falling leaf.
Month whose emblem is pall and sheaf.
Over the grave of the flowers is spread.
Coverlet rich as on Croesus' bed—
Made of pieces of rainbow scraps;
And over them winds play, softly, laps.
Month for picking the winter apples.

"GARÇONNE" FROCK

"Garçonne" is the name applied to the popular new two-piece frocks of wool jersey. These dresses are seen in the smartest of gathering places on the best-dressed women, more especially at sport events.

Black is a favorite color, especially combined with white collar and cuffs. The fine kasha jersey, which gives the effect of duvetyne, is especially in demand for these models.

A camisole skirt, either pleated or plain, is worn with the separate blouse—straight line or gathered in a snug waistband.

DRIED BEEF.

What do you keep on your emergency shelf? Tuna fish, salmon, dried beef and bacon?

There are more expensive meats that can be included in the array but dried beef is a good old standby that is not expensive and can be used in a variety of ways.

Whenever dried beef is used it is seldom necessary to add salt to the dish. The beef salts it sufficiently. If the beef is too salt it should be freshened carefully. Let stand in cold water for an hour. Drain and dry between towels.

Home cured dried beef makes a delicious supper meat without any fussing. Slice very thin and serve like any cold meat.

The dried beef on the market in glass jars is very good and there are many brands from which to choose. This sort is more expensive than the meat in the bulk but so very convenient to have in the house that the extra expense is warranted.

Scrambled eggs with dried beef is an appetizing breakfast dish. The beef adds piquancy to an otherwise mild concoction.

Dried Beef With Eggs.

One-fourth pound dried beef, 4 eggs, 2 tablespoons butter, ½ cup milk, ½ teaspoon pepper.

Melt butter in frying pan, add beef, pulled into bits, cover and let cook three minutes. Add milk and eggs, unbroken. Season with pepper. Cook over a slow fire, lifting and mixing with a fork. When the mixture is dry and rather fluffy serve immediately as longer cooking will make the milk and eggs separate.

Macaroni with dried beef is a nourishing dish.

Macaroni With Dried Beef.

One cup broken macaroni, 1 cup chopped dried beef, 2 cups canned tomatoes, ½ teaspoon pepper, coarse bread crumbs, butter.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water for 20 minutes. Drain and rinse in cold water. Put half the macaroni in a buttered baking dish, add beef and cover with remaining macaroni. Pour over tomatoes. Cover with bread crumbs, dot with bits of butter and bake half an hour in a moderate oven.

CREAMED DRIED BEEF.

One-fourth pound dried beef, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 cups milk, ½ teaspoon pepper, 2 cups macaroni.

Beat yolks of eggs until lemon-colored. Beat in potatoes and beef. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and fold in first mixture. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake 25 minutes in a moderate oven.

One or two hard boiled eggs can be added to creamed dried beef. Or an unbeaten egg can be stirred into the sauce when removed from the fire.

D. A. R. Meeting Was Held Saturday

Notwithstanding the steady downfall of rain, a large representation of loyal daughters of the American Revolution, gathered at the home of Mrs. W. C. McWehly Saturday afternoon for their regular monthly meeting.

After the usual opening exercises, business of varied interests was transacted. The response to roll call was made in names of Illinois statesmen, and remarks on his particular work, which elicited much interest. Mrs. Town was voted into the chapter, and being present, received cordial greetings.

Miss Elizabeth Rhodes favored the audience with a finely rendered piano solo, entitled "The Oriental Dance," by Roth.

"Illinois Revolutions" was treated briefly by Miss Woodbridge and short sketches of the early explorers were read by Mesdames Barlow, Nichols, Dysart and Osborne.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. Clinton Judd and Mrs. Collins Dysart.

ENGINEERS BUILD NEW FOUNDATIONS UNDER BIG PRESS

Remarkable Fete Was Accomplished at Tribune Bldg.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Moving a chimney without putting out the fire was a comparative trifle in starting the construction of the new Chicago Tribune tower, according to Holmes O'nderdonk, building manager for the Tribune company. The real achievement, he thinks, was tearing out an old foundation and putting in a new one while a connected system of presses 275 feet long, directly above, was kept running, undisturbed either by the excavation and construction beneath or by the jacking up of the entire section of the building in which it stood.

"I told Col. Robert R. McCormick, co-editor of the Tribune," said Mr. O'nderdonk, "We have accomplished the impossible."

The chain of 25 presses in the present Tribune building, to which the new tower is being added, is so synchronized that it is virtually one press. A deflection of the building to the left or right of a few thousandths of a foot would put the press system out of business, said Mr. O'nderdonk. Yet to support the proposed tower a much heavier foundation than originally provided was required beneath the entire west end in which the presses stand.

Excavations seventy feet deep then were made and an interval of 25 feet, shafts 112 feet deep, extending to bed rock, were sunk, making room for a 75 foot girder and 112-foot caissons or sunken piers, all of reinforced concrete. Meanwhile the big presses purged on, grinding out reams of dailies.

Should the building settle, even to an infinitesimal extent, the presses would be thrown out of gear, perhaps at a deadline. When the trucks were waiting for the last mail edition, to prevent that, the surveyors have been making readings every two hours for the last three months, and a set number of jack-screws has been assigned to the special charge of a separate workman, who has walked about to see that they were properly tight.

Through the combined vigilance of excavators and surveyors, the operation now virtually completed took place without a moment's interruption of the presses. Mr. O'nderdonk said.

"The chimney?" asked Mr. O'nderdonk. "Oh, that was easy. We simply banked the fire in the boiler at five o'clock in the morning, moved the chimney, slipped it in a new location, and re-constructed in place of the breaching of different length which led connected boiler and chimney before, and at nine o'clock the job was done and the fire still smouldering."

THE UNEASY BALKANS.

The Balkans are arming again—and it is Mussolini, the Italian dictator, who stirred them up.

The brutal seizure of Corfu, a Greek island supposedly internationalized, started the new upheaval. Aggression against Jugo-slavia, centering in the seaport of Fiume, makes it worse.

Greece is weak, and will not fight unless absolutely compelled, yet feels it necessary to take measures of preparedness against her big Mediterranean rival. Yugoslavia, weary of being bulldozed by Italy may be driven to arms to assert her claim to "a window on the sea" and the use of the Adriatic as an international body of water instead of an Italian lake. Yugoslavia is mainly Serbia and Serbia may yet fight Italian aggression as she fought Austrian aggression.

Albania, buffer state between Italy and Greece, feels herself menaced again, and may make trouble.

Bulgaria is deeply interested, with no official action taken but with regular troops massing on the frontier, ready to sweep into Serbia with fire and slaughter if Serbia becomes involved with Italy.

Hungary would take pleasure in similar action against Yugoslavia. Roumania, an ally of Yugoslavia, would be forced to go to that country's aid for her own self-preservation if for no other reason. And in the background wait the Turks, always ready to profit by Christian quarrels.

Thus the nursery of the World War and of so many European wars may breed another conflict, whose end no one could foretell, unless Mussolini regains his senses or the league of nations wakes up and shows a stronger hand.

LIFTING DEBT BURDEN.

At the end of August the net debt of the government, after deducting the balance of the general fund in the hands of the treasurer, was $21,947,572.379. The total is about $40,000,000 less than at the end of July, and is steadily being reduced under the able management of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. Refunding operations from time to time cause fluctuations in the rate of decrease, but the unflinching tendency is toward relief from the debt burden. It is pertinent to remark in this connection that if the money borrowed from American taxpayers by foreign governments during and following the war were to be repaid, our national debt would be cut in half.

WHEN YOU GO.

Steinmetz is gone from the news—and almost forgotten by the public. Scientists, of course, will remember him and speak his name with reverence long after all the politicians of our generation will be as forgotten as King Tut's undertaker.

Gone from the news, yes. But we cannot forget him editorially. Especially we cannot forget that the intellect of Steinmetz—a far more useful and helpful intellect than that of Socrates—was taken from a three-dimensional world that badly needed it, when Steinmetz was only 58 years old.

Only! You may wonder why we use the "only." Principally because very few men become really "worth while" before they are 60. Intellect—genius—requires aging, like wine.

The career of Steinmetz included 58 years, in which he was reaching toward a goal. He made valuable discoveries, of course, but he never reached his goal.

That is the way of life. Nature seems to be jealous, in a sense. At least, she removes us from the stage when we begin to know too much. We seem to be destined to live in confusion and ignorance of the Real Purpose of Life. Get too close to the answer, and . . . well, it's like Steinmetz: sudden and unexpected death.

You read about the theatrical scientists trying to make nonentities live to extremely old age by gland transplanting and so on.

The nonentities can pay for it.

Did you ever stop to consider what it would mean to make a man like Steinmetz live to be, say, 500 years old?

Nature, of course, will not stand for it.
We live in confusion, in bewilderment, and there's no escaping.

GRANDMA.

How old is Ann? Answer: She's as old as she feels when she gets to New York. In that city the Travelers' Aid Society in a year rounds up and cares for 855 women between 70 and 88, most of them grandmothers and all runaways from home, lured by the Gay White Way.

The society's secretary, Virginia May Murray, says she has decided that the dangerous age for women is between 17 and 90.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

THE STORY OF ROBBER RICEBIRD

"Well I declare said Mr. Ricegrower in surprise.

"Come on, fellows! What did I tell you? Didn't I say that Dixie Land was a fine place? Look at that rice-field all 'specially planted for us!"
Nothing like that up north."

A little brown and white bird with a yellow throat made this long speech to a couple of dozen of his friends.
They were all resting in a pine-tree
after their long journey.

The birds hadn't noticed a couple of small figures nearby—a little boy and girl who nodding knowingly at each other when they heard what the birds were saying.

"That's Robber Ricebird and his gang that Mister Ricegrower asked us to look out for," said Nick to Nancy. "Did you hear him say that the rice had been 'specially planted for them?"

"Maybe he does think so," answered Nancy. "He seems like a nice little bird. He doesn't look like a thief."

"If he's been here before, he ought to know better," argued Nick. "He hasn't he's just telling that to his friends so they'll all go along and keep him company."

But before Nancy could answer, Robber Ricebird called out, "Come on, fellows! If we want to get as far South America this year, we'll have to be attending to our business.
Now eat all the rice you can hold because we have to fly a long distance over water with nothing to eat at all.
One, two, three ready go!"

And instantly all the birds settled down on the rice stalks like a small cloud and began to snip off the little rice grains as fast as they could make their bills go.

"Um! Yum! Isn't this grand!" they warbled.

"Spink! Spink! Isn't it fine?" they chirped. "Robbie, you're a fine chap to bring us here."

"Bobbie! Did you hear?" whispered
Nick. "That's short for Robber."

Just then there was a sharp bang, bang, bang! And the birds rose in a panic and swarmed back into the pine-tree.

"Wh—what was that, Bobbie?"
they panted. "It sounded like a gun."

"It was a gun!" exclaimed their leader in a puzzled voice. "I know because I've heard Mister Farmer shooting at the crows in his cornfield up north. Why, you'd think we were robbers and were stealing, so you would! Really I'm so upset I'll have to sing to steady my nerves.
Come on, let's all sing. It will do us good." And to the Twins' amusement, what should the birds begin ing to draw close contact lines, or reading in poor light and poorer position, this nerve may receive severe strain. It does not cry out or object, so far as the child or teacher may observe, but it does object and the retina and optic nerve may be permanently injured and no pain be felt.

Never strike or "cuff" a small child on the side of the head. It is a dangerous practice for the eyes. If they "see stars" it means a shock to the optic nerve. If this excessive force is continued for any length of time it means the children's eyes will become defective and astigmatic.

In school children, at present, the hyperopic eyes far outnumber the normal eyes.

Look into the matter of your children's eyes at once. It is absolutely essential that all parents and teachers should co-operate to do all that is possible to conserve and correct the eyes of the children.

A DOMESTIC PLEA

BY BERTON BRALEY

My dear, you know my heart is true
You know I love you fearfully,
And were it necessary to,
I'd die for you right cheerfully;
I know too, that you'd gladly go
To Timbuctoo and back for me,
But just the same I beg you, "Oh,
I wish you wouldn't pack for me!"

I know the job I do is punk,
And that I'm not meticulous,
I know I chuck things in the trunk
In fashion most ridiculous,
I know with what exceeding art
My stuff you'd fold and stack for me,
But, darling, kindly have a heart—
I wish you wouldn't pack for me.

The job you do is fine, no doubt,
But when I must begin again
To put back what I've taken out,
I cannot get things in again.
You put my duds so well in place,
So neatly do you fold 'em all,
I have to buy another case
When I start back, to hold 'em all!

I throw things in my trunk? Oh yes,
I know your work is snapper.
But just the same and none the less
My own way leaves me happier.
Though much disorder I display,
Don't exercise YOUR knack for me,
Just let me do my frowny way—
I WISH you wouldn't pack for me!

mercy shall compass him about.—Ps.

Clerks Cannot Ask
Preachers of Data
Concerning Weddings

Springfield—County clerks have no authority whatever to request clergymen or any official performing marriage ceremonies to furnish statistical information regarding marriages, according to an opinion rendered here by Attorney General Edward J. Brundage.

"Nowhere in the Marriage Act," the Attorney General said, "is provision made giving the county clerk, or any other person, the right to request the minister, or whoever else celebrates the marriage, to supply any information whatsoever, of a statistical nature."

If the person celebrating the marriage can be compelled to furnish information of the character in question, it can be only under the powers granted to the Department of Public Health, as a proper exercise of the police power of the state to aid said department in securing such data in the nature of vital statistics, as is the opinion of the department, will serve to promote the public health and general welfare of the citizens of the state."

The Vital Statistics Act of 1915 and the State Board of Health Act of 1877 both make provisions for the compilation of vital statistics by the state.
But, according to Attorney General Brundage, as the Vital Statistics Act is silent upon the question of recording of marriage, consequently the provi-

RADIO HERE TO STAY

Radio is here to stay.
There is no longer any doubt about its permanence as a utility, nor is there likely to be any radical change or new discovery in connection with it which will affect its fundamental importance.

The history of other inventions, as well as experience in the field of radio to date, indicates this to be a fact.

Two years ago when radio first became known to the man on the street there was a general belief among laymen that some new idea would soon come out and upset all the principles previously discovered in this new art of communication. But nothing of the kind has happened, and in this respect radio is repeating the history of other inventions.

Take the telephone for example.
The telephone is as first model which Alexander Graham Bell produced.
Likewise the principle of the steam engine is the same now as when Robert Fulton made the first steamboat.
Hardly ever has a great invention later undergone a fundamental change in the principles underlying it. Obsolescence comes in styles, but not in principles. Refinements are made, costs cut, and parts made simpler, and more rugged, but no revolutionary change occurs.

The same is true of radio. Circuits that cost a good many dollars years ago give good results now, although simpler circuits have been developed, using fewer controls.

It is a fact that the public is now buying higher grade parts than they were a year or two ago, but they are still buying well known, tried and true brands.

Five years ago a certain small compact, reduced an amplifying transformer which was the first offered for general sale to the public. Today that transformer is identical with the one first produced, and its efficiency, as well as its slogan have become famous. This manufacturer has developed the so-called reflex circuit to a point where anyone can put together a set which will bring in broadcasting stations within a thousand mile radius and do so on a loud speaker.

Models and styles change, but not fundamental principles.
The pessimists who predicted the failure of radio will have to find some thing new to worry about. Take anybody with a good set and try and get it away from him, or shake his faith in radio. Try and do it!

Ask the radio fan—he knows!

Know Thy

It is not too strong a statement to make, that ambitious parents frequently are the cause of a child's eyes being ruined as well as its health. The healthy boy or girl with normal eyes should be watched and guarded closely in order to conserve this most priceless possession. Those children who have a tendency to weak eyes from birth must be protected from the many harmful influences even more carefully.

Do not allow children of one, two or three years to look at pictures or any objects which require close inspection in any detail. Kindergarten five, and even six years of age, should be chiefly confined to large charts or objects large enough to be well seen at a distance of 10 or 15 feet. No small objects to be judged or small holes in cards for sewing should be used.

UNBEATEN BADGERS TO MEET ILLINOIS: TO MARK DAD'S DAY

Illini, Happy in Victory
Over Maroons, Expect Hard Battle.

Urbana, Ill.—Wisconsin's Badgers, undefeated and cherishing dreams of a conference championship, are coming to the Illinois Stadium next Saturday for the last Big Ten game of the season at Illinois. Overshadowed momentarily by the Chicago-Illinois combat, this engagement now looms as one of the great battles of the year.

The battle promises to be desperate with the Madison team out to avenge the defeat of a year ago when Illinois upset the dope and emerged a 3 to 0 victor.

Jack Ryan, former Dartmouth star and later coach at Marquette and at his alma mater, has succeeded John Richards as the Badger mentor. In the four games played under the tutelage of the new coach Wisconsin has won handily from Coe, the Michigan Aggies, and Indiana—crushing the latter by a 52 to 0 score—and played a scoreless tie with Minnesota.

Ryan has instituted an eastern style of attack. Both the balance and the unbalanced line is used with direct passes to the backs when the play goes outside the tackle or over the weak side. The quarterback feeds the ball on the quick openings, splits, and hidden ball plays that are so much a feature of eastern football. The punt formation also has been used with telling effect with the veteran Taft assuming the role of triple-threat man.

Taft Is King Pin
Taft passes, kicks and runs. He is the king pin in the Badger defense and on offense he is one of the best line backers in the west. It was due largely to his superb defensive work in the Minnesota game that Martineau, the Gophers' ace and one of the best ground gainers in the conference for the last three years, was unable to break loose for any of his accustomed long runs.

Close followers of the game will be interested in comparing Taft with Britton of Illinois. This lanky boy also plays fullback and is a skillful punter and passer.

Harris and Holmes, at right and left half respectively, and Eagleburger at quarterback, complete the Badger backfield. The latter was replaced in the Minnesota game by Schneider, a sophomore, who may get the call this week.

Irish and Nelson at ends, Capt. Marty Below and Gerber at tackles, Heberstein and Nichols at guards, and Teckemeyer at center, constitute the line. With the exception of Heberstein and Nichols in the line and Schneider in the backfield, the entire Cardinal team is composed of veterans.

Capt. Below Is Great
Capt. Below, all-conference tackle in 1922, is an important cog. He plays a slashing defensive game and usually the yardage gained through his position is slight. He is equally good on offense and a large number of plays are sent into the line behind him.

Irish at end is a fast aggressive player whose superb covering of punts and snappy defensive ability make his play outstanding. His work is out out for him in stopping Grange. The Badgers will be in tip-top condition. They played through the Minnesota game without a substitution. Furthermore, Saturday was an open date. This means that the team will have its strongest lineup.

That 30,000 people at least will see the battle is predicted. Many persons who lost out on tickets for the Chicago game will make the trip to the stadium. Saturday is Dad's day and 3000 fathers will visit their sons and daughters. A big entertainment program includes a military review of the 3000 students composing the brigade.

THREE UNDEFEATED
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Nov. 5.—Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota rested untriedly in the first place berth of the Big Ten conference today. All are undefeated but with greater tests ahead.

By its 7-0 defeat of Chicago Saturday, Illinois eliminated the Maroons and is holding to its place in the conference with most assurance. The Illini still must play Wisconsin and Ohio.

Michigan showed its strength when it defeated Iowa 9-3 Saturday. The Wolverines were forced to fight desperately to hold the point lead they got in the first quarter. With Wisconsin and Minnesota games ahead Michigan faces two hard contests. Minnesota added the fourth consecutive defeat to Northwestern's record by 34-14. The Gophers showed they possess a strong scoring machine that may upset Michigan in the final game November 24.

Somewhat in the background, due to a resting period, Wisconsin lies ready to live up to its reputation by upsetting Illinois in the feature game of this week. The Badgers are reported to have caused more trouble in past years for the Illini than any other eleven. They are to take a team of unknown strength to Urbana on Saturday.

Grange a Sensation
Saturday, Illinois removed Chicago from the race before 61,000 spectators who witnessed the first game played in the new Illinois Stadium. Playing in the mud, the two teams fought desperately through the first half before Grange brought the first score for the Illini in the third period.

On 17 plays in which he carried the ball, Grange made over 170 yards. His work was supported by a strong line. Chicago had one chance to score in the first period when they had the ball within the Illinois 15 yard line, but lost on two downs. The game was won by a straight march down the field by Illinois from Chicago's 37 yard line.

In the other principal game, Michigan opened a first period offense that brought 3 points before Iowa stopped the rush. A break in the game gave the Wolverines their touchdown when Blott fell on a partially blocked punt across the goal line. Kipke's 49 yard drop kick made the other 3 points. Fletcher gave Iowa its score from a drop kick in the second quarter.

Purdue managed to score on Notre Dame in a non-conference game won by the Notre Dame team 24-7. Ohio State easily defeated Denison 42-0 and Indiana won from Hanover 42-0.

Chicago plays Indiana this Saturday. Ohio State meets Purdue, Northwestern will play Lake Forest and Michigan is to meet the U. S. Marines. The Illinois-Wisconsin game at Urbana is to hold the central interest in the Big Ten.

GRIDIRON FACTS By Billy Evans.

BY RULLY EVANS

QUESTION
On the fourth down with seven yards to gain the team in possession of the ball decides to punt on the next play. The kicker gets off a long spiral. Seeing that it is a difficult punt to handle, the quarterback of the opposing team elects to make a fair catch. He signals for a fair catch in the customary manner. He fumbles the ball and it bounds a considerable distance from the point where the signal for the fair catch had been made. The player who had signaled for the catch recovered possession of the ball and ran the length of the field for a touchdown. What about this play?

ANSWER
When a player signals for a fair catch, opponents who are off side shall not in any way interfere with him or the ball. However, in order to complete the fair catch it is necessary that the player who so signals retain possession of the ball. The moment the ball is fumbled by the player who elects to make the fair catch, it is a free ball, and the rules governing a fair catch no longer apply. In the case cited the referee should have allowed a touchdown when the player who had signaled for a fair catch recovered his own fumble and ran the length of the field for a touchdown.

Trained Nurses Praise

The Merits of Tanlac

One of the outstanding features in connection with the Tanlac treatment is the large number of professionally trained nurses who have found the medicine of such wonderful merit that they have come out with public statements telling of the remarkable results accomplished by its use. Owing to the wide experience of nurses with various medicines and in the care of the sick, what they have to say about Tanlac will be read with exceptional interest by the public generally.

Mrs. L. A. Borden, 425 Pontius Ave., Seattle, Wash., a graduate of the National Temperance Hospital, Chicago, and for many years a leader in her profession, pays the following tribute to Tanlac:

"From my long experience as a nurse I do not hesitate to say Tanlac is Nature's most perfect remedy. I have used it exclusively for seven years in the treatment of my charity patients. For keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly and for toning up the system in general, Tanlac has no equal."

Mrs. L. A. Lorentzen, graduate of Bellevue Hospital, New York, now a wealthy and influential resident of 285 Faxon Ave., San Francisco, says: "In all my experience as a nurse, I never found a stomach medicine and tonic that compares with Tanlac. My own health was terrible five years ago and although I spent hundreds of dollars in a vain search for relief from nervousness, indigestion and my generally run-down condition, it remained for Tanlac to give me back my health."

LEE CO. SCHOOLS ABOUT $26,000 IN DISTRIBUTED FUND

State Supt. Announces $8,000,000 is to Be Divided.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 5.—Relieved of the necessity of showing that their schools are up to specified standards, the 182 counties of Illinois will receive this year approximately the same appropriation from the $8,000,000 common school distributive fund as was received last year according to the announcement of Francis G. Blair, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

This results from the opinion of Attorney General Brundage that Senate Bill 220 provides the new rules for distribution. The new law would have changed the distribution somewhat, giving counties that needed it, more help and decreasing the allotment to some others.

The amount distributed last year totaled $7,889,315.59. The amounts the counties will get this year will total about the same. However, Mr. Blair has announced that the distribution of the $8,000,000 fund will be gathered in time for the 1924 fund. Forms will be forwarded soon to all counties, outlining the information desired, including school days per year, attendance, teacher training and teacher days in the year.

Distribution under the old law this year as heretofore, is according to the school age population. Amounts the counties will get this year will be approximately as follows:

Here are the New Remington Game Loads

THE next time you go out hunting, stop at your dealer's and ask him for a box of Remington Game Loads for the particular kind of game you are after.

The name of the game is right on the box.

You'll note that the weight of the powder is not marked on the box.

It isn't shown because Remington Game Loads are not loaded to specified weight.

The box of shells you get is loaded to give a uniform velocity, pattern and penetration.

Remington Arms Company, Inc., New York City

Established 1816

Remington tests showed that powder varies batch by batch—even the same kind and weight. A given weight of the same kind of powder doesn't always give the same results. So in Game Loads Remington adjusts the amount of powder to give exactly the right shooting quality for the specific game. Powder varies—Remington Game Loads do not.

Take just one box of Remington Game Loads out and use them. Notice how they shoot in your gun.

And remember this: If you go back to the store next week or next month—or go to any store in a different town—and get another box of the same kind of Remington Game Load, the shells will perform exactly the same.

Progress in Communication

When the Erie Canal was opened nearly one hundred years ago, connecting Buffalo with New York City and the Great Lakes with the Atlantic Ocean, there were no railroads, telegraph or telephones.

The formal opening of the canal, which was the most important news of the period, marking the beginning of a new epoch in the development of the country, was announced in an unique and dramatic manner. Cannons were placed at intervals, bearing distance apart, all along the bank of the canal and down the Hudson River to New York and all the way out to Sandy Hook.

The first boat entered the canal at Buffalo at 10 o'clock on the morning of October 26, 1825, and the cannon at the entrance to the canal was fired. When this shot was heard the next cannon farther down the canal was fired. The news was carried from cannon to cannon until one hour and twenty minutes later, New York City knew that the canal was open to traffic and that the first boat had left Buffalo with passengers and freight.

When the final cannon was fired in New York the firing order was reversed and in another hour and twenty minutes Buffalo knew that New York had received the message.

A record had been established for the quick transmission of news.

That was ten years before Morse invented the telegraph; six years before the first steam railroad was operated in the state; fifty-one years before Bell invented the telephone.

DUNTILE
Builds Better Buildings Cheaper

THIS is what we mean by a better building. One that is a better place in which to live or work, one that performs its functions in a more thorough way. It must be a healthful building, free from dampness. A comfortable building, warm in winter and cool in summer. It cannot burn down, neither must it deteriorate with age—it must be permanent. A modern building that stays modern and an attractive building that has its value enhanced by a distinctive beauty.

To build such a building cheaper means that the cost of materials must be less and that the job be done more rapidly with less labor and material. Not only should the first cost be less, but the later expense of repair and upkeep should be eliminated.

Duntile builds such buildings, better and cheaper.

"THE FOOL"

BY CHANNING POLLOCK

Clare Jewett, in love with the Reverend Daniel Gilchrist, marries Jerry Goodkind for his money. Daniel is dismissed from the fashionable Church of the Nativity in New York because of his radical sermons. Gilchrist is sent to the coal mines by Goodkind senior and writes a big book. A delegation of strikers comes north to interview the president and directors. The strikers, then Hennig and Umanski. They do not meet with success. Daniel calls at Jerry's home to see Jerry's father. Jerry meets Daniel and forbids him to speak to Clare.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Suddenly Jerry lifted a hand that trembled with anger. With a swift motion he brought it up and with its back slashed Gilchrist across the mouth, a stinging blow.

Gilchrist's hands clinched tightly, his face colored so that the red mark of the blow was just, he drew himself up as if to launch his whole force at this snarling thing before him.

Then, as suddenly as his muscular frame had stiffened, it relaxed. He bowed his head, as one humbled. In his mind he had seen a figure and heard a voice.

Clare started with the blow but caught herself up quickly when she saw Gilchrist open his clenched hands and lower his head.

"Dan!" she said in amazement, "you're not going to take that?" Gilchrist looked up unashamed.

"I have nothing to say," he answered simply, and turned to go.

It was Clare who turned to scorn now.

"I didn't think you were a coward," she mocked. Then helplessly and pathetically: "You see—I was wrong about everything."

And she was gone.

CHAPTER XIII Jerry's Ultimatum

GILCHRIST stood there helpless, but with his head still high and his eyes clear. Clare's reputation had left him mute and he seemed like a lifeless and hollow thing. Its effect on Hennig, however, had been the opposite. Fired by the brazenness of others, he, too, doubled his fists, and advanced upon this man he believed to be immobile with cowardice.

"You'll play around with my wife, will you?" he blustered. His fist shot out.

Daniel had wheeled suddenly with the alertness of a cunning animal. With a swift move, he caught Hennig's wrist with both hands. A quick twist, and Joe sprawled on the floor. Daniel looked at his cowed adversary solitarily.

"I hope I didn't hurt you, Joe," he said.

"My God!" It was Stedman's expression of amazement as he looked from Gilchrist to Jerry, bewildered. Hennig had scrambled to his feet, but not eager for another encounter. He made for the door.

"Don't worry," he muttered. "I'll get you. It may be a long time but I'll get you." And he hurried out.

"Take him home, Stedman," said Gilchrist with a trace of tender solicitude.

"Tell your father we'll be around in the morning, Mr. Jerry," said Stedman as he left.

Gilchrist and Jerry eyed each other for a moment. Then Jerry sauntered to the table, poured himself a drink and downed it with a grimace.

"Well," he said at last, "you've made a nice mess of it. Why can't you keep your nose out of other people's business. Why did you have to date my leaving Black River?"

Gilchrist could talk freely now. Clare was gone.

"Why in the name of heaven did you have to get mixed up with Pearl Hennig?" he queried earnestly.

Aviators to Take Pictures of Active Hawaiian Volcano

Honolulu, T. H.—Attempts to take aerial photographs and observations of gas and heat directly above the continuously active fire-pit of Halemauau in the volcano of Kilauea on the island of Hawaii, will be made by army aviators in the near future, it has been announced by headquarters of the Hawaiian Department.

This, it is believed, will be the first time in history that airplanes will be used for the purpose. The photographs and observations will be used by scientists.

Work will be started immediately on a landing field and airbase at the Hawaiian National Park, which includes the volcano. The air survey of the volcano will consume several months. The aviators also will photograph Hilo harbor and other strategic points on the island.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

"I'd hate to figure out what walk-outs have cost this country."
 "Yes, I often wonder why it wouldn't be cheaper to keep the man contented."
 "How're you going to do it?" queried Goodkind, doubtfully. "Don't forget there are as many people paid for stirring up strikes as for crushing 'em. Paid well, too. What the laboring man needs is a real interest in his job."

"Why don't you give it to him?" "How? By doubling his wages? The more most of 'em get the less I want to do for it. You know that."

"Yes."
 "They've got a notion that you get rich by riding around in a limousine."

"Don't you?" Daniel asked, quietly. "Not often. Not unless you think while you ride, or your father thought for you. Even then, money doesn't stay long in bad company. To hear those fellows you'd think there wasn't any work except what's done with a pick. The man who really produces is the man with the pick."

"The man who produces most," corrected Daniel. "Yes, and he ought to get most," said Goodkind, firmly.

"He does," came back Gilchrist. "He always will," asserted Goodkind. "Show me a big man and I'll show you somebody who's done a big job. It's the little man with no capacity and no chin who cries about a conspiracy to keep him from being president."

"They've got to be little men, too, Mr. Goodkind."
 "And they've got to be satisfied with little rewards. We can't all have the same bank roll any more than we can all have the same health. That's where unions go wrong. When you tell a man he's going to have the same reward whatever he does—not because he's got ability, but because he's got a union card—down goes the standard, out goes incentive and he'll go the whole social structure."

"Right!" said Gilchrist, approvingly. "That's why I'm fighting the unions," continued Goodkind, well warned to his subject. "Not because I want to starve the man who works, but because I want to fire the man who doesn't—and reward the man who does. I want to give every man a good reason for doing his best. You can talk equality and democracy all you like, Dan, but the minute the average man isn't afraid of being fired he isn't afraid of being worthless. The minute you take away the incentive—the chance to get this—and he waded a hand at the signs of wealth that surrounded him—that minute you reduce the world to a common level of common indifference and common futility."

"Right!" agreed Daniel again. "Have another cigar?" chorried Goodkind, well pleased. Gilchrist waved the one he was smoking just as Benfield appeared at the door.

"Come in, Charlie," said Goodkind. "Gilchrist's settled the strike."

"Good," said Benfield, but with a skeptical reserve.

Daniel drew a folded paper from his pocket and handed it to Goodkind.

"They may seem a little radical," he said, "but I think I can show you they'll save money in the end."

"That's the idea," beamed Goodkind as he picked up the sheets. He flung a cocky look at Benfield. "I told you I knew my man. The Lord knows he's full of theories but sometimes they're—"

His eyes fell upon the typewritten sheet before him and he stopped short.

"Wait a minute! What's this?" Goodkind jumped to his feet and slowly raged appeared on a face that had radiated confidence a moment before.

CHAPTER XIV Gilchrist's Agreement

GOODKIND scanned the page before him, hastily, excitedly.

ENCOURAGES BOY EMIGRANTS. New arrivals will be allotted holdings of this land, and the immigration of boys to Australia is to be particularly encouraged.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—(By the Associated Press)—The making of school budgets and the development of common school problems, will be among the subjects discussed at the meeting in Chicago November 12-13 of the National Association of State Universities. It is recognized that the application of dollars to the needs of schools is of growing importance.

The problems of state schools are increasing, and at the same time they are very similar. The vastness of the present day demand for education is the warrant for some plan by which one investigation will help solve the problems common to all.

Cure of Insanity Restores Franchise

Springfield, Ill.—Rights of citizenship, which are lost to a person judicially pronounced insane, may be restored without any formality after the person has recovered, Attorney General Edward J. Brundage has informed State's Attorney Paul J. Graham, of Mendota.

The person concerned the attorney general's ruling says, is not "compelled to appear in court."

"I see no reason," Attorney General Brundage said, "why a conservator or some member of the former patient's family may not procure such notice from the superintendent of the asylum, present it to the court, and ask the entry of the order contemplated by the statute."

"Where a former patient, for whom a conservator has been appointed, refuses, after he or she has been pronounced sane and is discharged as cured, to ask the removal of the conservator, I think a court would be slow to remove him and require the patient to assume the control of her property against his or her will. Though entirely sane, it is not difficult to conceive that she might have excellent reasons for desiring to leave her property in charge of the conservator."

Fielding ("Hurly Up") Yost, coach of the University of Michigan football team for the last 23 years, is to retire at the close of the present season.

AMERICAN FLEETS WILL ENGAGE IN GREAT MANEUVERS

Spectacular Peace Engagement Will Be Fought in 1924.

Los Angeles.—(By the Associated Press)—The greatest and most spectacular peace-time naval engagements ever fought will be staged early next year off Panama and in the Caribbean Sea, according to naval plans announced here. Practically the whole effective marine fighting force of the United States will be represented in the three months of maneuvers designed to test revolutionary developments in strategy and implements of naval warfare since the close of the world war.

Plans for this vast war game have been in preparation for weeks in conference here and at other points on the Pacific Coast. These conferences, under direction of Admiral Robert E. Coontz, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, were marked by the gathering and consultation of the largest number of commanding executive officers of naval establishments units that has occurred since the war.

Major problems in the complete scheme of a war enter into the plans for the winter maneuvers. These embrace attack upon land defenses, with army units participating; that is a naval fight against an army defending a fortified coast; defensive and offensive actions by army and naval units against naval units along the coast; defensive and offensive actions at sea between naval units, with the full utility of undersea and air units.

All kinds of battles, undersea battles, destroyer, fast cruiser and dreadnaught engagements, as well as landing battles in which a complete force of marines will be involved, divided into infantry, artillery, engineer, aviation and signal corps branches of that arm of the naval establishment.

New scouting cruisers, fastest naval vessels afloat, and the sixteen-inch gun dreadnaughts, will participate among the 110 naval craft that will make up the units in these war games.

The Pacific fleet, known as the United States battle fleet, will leave the coast about January 4. This embraces the battleship divisions, the destroyer squadrons, submarine divisions, aircraft divisions and fleet base force. Joint exercises with the army when approaching the Panama side of the canal are planned, after tactical exercises between units of the naval force while steaming off the Mexican and Central American coast.

These units will probably remain at Panama for two or three days, refilling with fuel, transit the canal and head for Culebra. This force is under command of Admiral S. S. Robison.

The Atlantic forces, known as the scouting fleet, will leave the east coast at the same time the Pacific units leave here, and upon reaching Panama will engage in a combined war game with the Pacific units. The scouting fleet consists of battle ship divisions, destroyer squadrons, air squadrons, train forces and a control force and is under command of Vice Admiral N. A. McCully.

Coontz in Command

Admiral Robert E. Coontz will be in active command of the winter maneuvers. After the naval engagements worked out by the combined fleet the war-craft will proceed together for a series of combined tactical exercises using Culebra as a base from which to operate. In these exercises will be utilized some new effective developments in strategy.

Among the more important features of the maneuvers will be the part played by radio, not only for communication, but in location of the enemy. Vast strides have been made in the development of the radio telegraph, radio telephone and radio directional facilities of the naval establishment. This being the nerve center of the units when in operation, its development is of deep interest. A very important part of the communication and directional work, and of particular value in the spotting and direction of fire is the operation of naval aircraft using radio telephone and telegraph. Of equal importance is the development in the fleet defensive apparatus for protection against the air, and these improvements will feature the maneuvers.

During the latter part of February there will be a recreational period extending into March, when vessels of the Pacific units probably will visit ports on the eastern coast of the United States and Atlantic units will visit the West Indies and gulf ports.

The fighting craft will reassemble at Culebra in March and conduct tactical exercises until April 14, when the major war problems of the combined units will have been worked out. Some thirty-five thousand officers and men will participate in the maneuvers, and during the recreational period the athletic championships of the navy will be determined.

I hope, dear little Marquise, that you are not tired of my conjectures over the baby for I want to add just one more picture that stamped itself on my mind before Sydney Carton left for home. He stayed with us three days. I have never seen a man so appreciative of real home life as he. I do not think there was a thing in my drawing room or dining room, a bit of furniture in his bedroom or the library, that he did not find some appropriate remark with which to show me that he knew exactly its worth and its utilitarian as well as ornamental value.

"Good Lord, Syd! One would think you were taking an inventory of Leslie's household fittings to hear you talk. You have called my attention to things that I never saw before."

"That's right, Jack," I was glad to say to him. "You have taught me that it isn't one's husband who always sees and appreciates one's taste and the perfection of one's Lares and Penates."

"Do one's household gods have to be perfect, Leslie?" asked Sydney. "It seems to me just at present as though I had been in houses where worship and adoration were given to very useless and very ugly idols."

"Of course you wouldn't have me say yourself," smiled Sydney.

"I wouldn't have you say it either, Sydney," said I, laying my hand on Jack's arm fondly. "I think he makes a very splendid head of the house as well as father of the child he is now going to christen with the historical name of John Alden Prescott."

Jack wriggled as though something was pricking him all over as a hair shirt might have done.

"According to mother, Leslie, all my ancestors will be spending the few moments, in which the rector is sprinkling water and blessings on the unconscious face of little Jack, in turning over in their graves. She calls him a 'nameless graven,' you know, Syd."

At this I snatched up my baby and started out. I could not speak. It seemed to me that this ceremony would indissolubly knit the bonds between my baby and me in a way that no one ever could break them.

I felt that even Jack had a vague appreciation of this for as I held the child as proxy for Alice, his arm stole about me and he whispered, "Little mother Leslie, you make me very, very happy."

HUPMOBILE DEALER WANTED

THE NEW SERIES HUPMOBILE IN SEDANS, COUPES, SPECIAL AND STANDARD TOURING CARS ARE NOW AVAILABLE FOR PROMPT DELIVERY.

A very liberal contract is offered to an established automobile dealer for Dixon and adjacent territory.

Increase in Hupmobile Production

The Hupmobile is "coming." It is making more money for the individual dealer today. It will make still more in 1924. The factory is planning greatly increased production for both years. We don't know—and we believe that you don't know—where such an opportunity is available today outside of the Hupmobile organization.

People in your territory now know what a wonderful car the Hupmobile is. Owners are spreading the facts; everyone—especially mechanics—are saying—"The Hupmobile is a mighty good car to own." And, naturally, this sells more Hupmobiles.

Hupmobile Easier to Sell

This all gets back to the fact that the dealer today can sell Hupmobiles with greater ease, and he can sell more of them, than ever before.

And, we know, he can make more net profit on the Hupmobile; profit that compares most favorably with what can be made in any other line of business.

The Hupmobile franchise is eagerly sought for today by dealers everywhere.

We want men who understand that selling automobiles does not mean a large investment in pretentious salesrooms, but that it means sound business practice, keeping salesmen on the job, and good bank credit.

If you are such a dealer, you can, unquestionably, make good money in selling Hupmobiles. Hupmobile dealers have demonstrated this to be a fact; let us tell you the full story.

Write to us today. We believe that you will have cause to congratulate yourself, time after time in the future on having done so.
